The Ohio Gerrymander Is Now Fixed,

VOL XVI. NO. 287. TOLEDO, OHIO, THURSDAY MARCH 31, 1892. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

A WONDERFUL ADVANCE.

The Most Remarkable Improvements Which Have Taken Place in the Past Few Years.

(Medical Journal.)

The great Dr. Richardson, of London, has just been talking about leeches. He declares that the principal practice of the past, even within his memory, was blood-letting. He says: "The lancet, in frequent use, was supplemented by the leech and the cupping glass. It may seem incredible but it is the fact, that I know of one practice in which the leech bill alone reached the sum of £150 a year. I also knew a practice in which a man, who had learned to apply leeches skillfully, was attached to the firm as the regular "leechman." He—dear old fellow!—was too good and devoted to his work ever to be forgotten; he could make leeches bite when no one else could, 'they loved him so;' be was known to fame the country round, and many a countryman was ready to swear that he owed his life to 'Old Josh' the 'Leechman.'"

This seems absurd to you, does it not? but is it any more absurd than some things which are done at the present day? You are told that you must purify your blood and then are left free to injure and rack your nerves to pieces. Do you not know that the blood can never be pure while the nerves are weak or shaken? Whoever saw or heard of a healthy man or woman with trembling nerves? Is it not as absurd as the old blood-letting practice to cry "purify the blood" and then neglect the nerves? Be consistent.

No known remedy of the doctors will strengthen the nerves without injuring them. It remained for a discovery to come to the world that could and would accomplish this. It was no ordinary accidental discovery, but was the result of patient and scientific experimenting. It came to Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth College, and after years of experimenting it resulted in the discovery of Paine's Celery Compound. Note what is said regarding this great discovery:

I have used two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and it has given entire satisfaction as an appetizer and blood purifier.
T. L. BERNER,
Watertown, Dakota.

As a gentle laxative Paine's Celery Compound is surely without a peer. I have found nothing that equals it in my case of costiveness.
J. B. JENKINS,
Cloyd's Creek, Tenn.

I have used three bottles of Paine's Celery Compound for kidney trouble and pain in my back, and have been greatly benefited.
I. W. WAMPOLE,
North Wales, Mont. Co., Pa.

I have used Paine's Celery Compound with good results in torpidity of the liver with the attendant train of disorders. Its action is prompt and pleasant.
ALBERT LEONARD,
Athens, Ohio.

The world has advanced and one of the most marked evidences of it advancement has been in its medical discoveries. And first and foremost in these discoveries is this great Celery Compound, now so popular and doing so much for relieving suffering and making life so much more enjoyable.

Weather Conditions.

A low barometer area of considerable depth is central over Cheyenne this morning. The storm center over the upper Mississippi valley yesterday has disappeared, and the eastern portion of the country is under the influence of a high barometer area. The low barometer area in the west is causing southeasterly winds and generally cloudy weather to the northeast of its center. Cloudy weather also prevails over the Lake region, with light rains. Higher temperatures are the rule east of the Rocky mountains. Sault Ste. Marie and Albany are the only stations east showing freezing temperature this morning.

The weather in this vicinity for to-day will be probably clearing in the afternoon, with but slight changes in temperature; for to-morrow fair and perhaps slightly warmer.

Griffin's Bill Has Passed the House

To Pay Off the Certificates of Indebtedness.

The Gerrymander Bill Is Now a Law.

A Hot Battle from Start to Finish.

The Districts as Made Up By Republicans Solely for the Benefit of the Republican Party—General Columbus News.

Columbus, O., March 31.—(Special)—The first bill introduced in the senate chamber of this legislature was by Jerrymander Carpenter of Meigs, dividing the state into congressional districts.

Indeed, it was a gerrymander of the first water, and was so obnoxious to some of the conservative republicans, that it lay in the bill hopper for a considerable length of time, until word was received from John Sherman that a bill of that kind should not pass the senate without a number of amendments, making it more equal in the opinion of the republican statesmen.

After the Sherman men in the senate had caucused a number of times, the bill was approved and passed in that body. When it came to the house, it did not meet with the approval that was expected, as the Foraker element in this branch are better fighters, and are really in the majority, for several of those that voted for Speaker Laylin for speaker were warm admirers of J. B. Foraker, but had to vote for Sherman on account of instructions by their county conventions.

After several consultations, the house at last concluded to report a bill that was, in their opinion all right, but the county of Cuyahoga made a serious kick, so that the bill was delayed for some time.

When this delegation had finished their consideration as to how their county should be divided, the bill was finally reported to the house and passed, only one republican voting in the negative—Fisher of Preble, while several refused to vote at all.

When this was messaged to the senate, the senate refused to concur in the same, and asked for a committee of conference. It was in the hands of this committee some time, and they held a number of meetings, and finally came, as they supposed, to a satisfactory conclusion, and the report of the conference committee was agreed to by the senate, and it came over to the house and was completely strangled in the house of its friends by a vote of 67 to 18.

As soon as the members of the senate learned that it had received such a death like blow, they became worried, and instead of insisting on a second conference committee, had a message sent to the house, asking for the return of the bill, and then unanimously voted against the report of the conference committee, thereby conceding that the house was right in its amendments to the bill.

A motion was then made that the senate recede from its amendments to the bill. The bill is now a law with the exception of the signatures of the presiding officers, which it will have by Friday noon.

Bob Nevis, of Dayton, is bowling mad and swears that he has always stood by Foraker, but after this throatcutting scheme, he will throw down the gauntlet and give some of his alleged friends the knife clear to the hilt, and it is said that he will have Lieutenant Governor Harris and Representative Fisher of Preble, with him.

Griffin is smiling all over on account of the way he has buried Harris, who beat him at the convention for lieutenant governor, but cannot secure the pleasure of having his (Harris') name on the roll call of the next house of representatives.

Griffin Knocks Out Flickinger.

Last night Mr. Griffin introduced a bill providing that the city of Toledo issue $340,000 in bonds to pay natural gas debts. It was read the second time, when the silver-haired Flick wanted it referred to a committee so the people could be heard on the subject.

Mr. Griffin said in defense of the bill that this was an honorable debt contracted by the city of Toledo, and was so declared by the circuit court.

The last general assembly provided for the purchasing and putting down of pipes in the streets of the city. This was done without the money being in the treasury of the city necessary to pay for the same.

The company did the work under the advice of the city solicitor, with the understanding that it was perfectly lawful and right, and certificates of indebtedness were issued.

Mr. Griffin read several petitions signed by a number of the most prominent business men of Toledo, among them one signed by the board of aldermen, the councilmen, and all the county officers.

He also read a letter from the editor of the Bee, saying that the city could not afford to repudiate debts unlawfully, and indorsing the bill in the highest terms.

Mr. Flickinger attacked the bill, and asked that it be referred to some appropriate committee, and said that he had been asked by prominent men of the city to have the bill delayed so as to give them a chance to be heard.

Mr. Griffin asked him if all of these gentlemen had not been, from the first, opposed to this work by the gas company, and Mr. Flickinger said he did not know.

Mr. Flickinger stated that while this indebtedness had been incurred the city had not had, nor did not now have, any gas, and that the gas company did not receive enough to pay their running expenses.

Mr. Griffin then asked him if he knew the receipts of the gas company, and he said he did not. Mr. Griffin then told him he didn't know what he was talking about, and then stated that the receipts of the company had been something like $18,000 per month.

Mr. Griffin asked him what in the world they put in the pumps for, and if he supposed a man put a pump in a well because there was no water there. Mr. Flickinger then shut off and seemed to have nothing to say, and Mr. Heller clinched the matter in a speech.

The bill was placed on its passage and passed, only two votes being in the negative—Messrs. Dick and Flickinger.

New Bills.

Two bills were introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon as follows: Mr. VanCleaf—Amending section 4686 by providing that a road used by the public for 25 years shall be improved by township supervision and be deemed as a public road.

Mr. Marshall—Providing for a non-partisan library board of six members in Dayton to be appointed by the board of education.

Dougherty Investigation.

The special committe appointed to investigate the charges against Representative Dougherty submitted the following report:

"To the Speaker House of Representatives:

"Your committee appointed under house resolution No. 36, to investigate the charges of corruption and bribery against the Hon. H. M. Daugherty in the recent senator ialcontest, between the Hon. John Sherman and Hon. Joseph B. Foraker, as the same appeared in the issues of the Columbus Post, from January 7 to January 21, 1892, beg leave to report as follows:

"We have examined the following witnesses: Henry Apthorp, W. P. Huntington, Wm. Kelly, W. D. Dickson, Wm. M. Hahn, H. D. Landon, Chas. O. Davis, H. M. Daugherty and John Sherman, the same being all the persons whom your committee could ascertain who might know anything concerning the truth or falsity of the charges contained in the said issues of the Columbus Post.

"From their testimony your committee is unable to find any evidence of facts in any way reflecting upon the conduct of the said H. M. Daugherty in the said senatorial contest.

"We are unable to find one iota of evidence that would lead us to believe that the said H. M. Daugherty, either received of asked, or was offered any consideration for his vote for John Sherman for United States senator, or that any one received, or asked, or was offered any money or other consideration for their vote."

Railroad Tickets.

The house passed a bill by Harshberger this morning which is a step in the direction of making railroads sell thousand mile tickets to any one, which shall be transferable and which can be used by four different persons at same time. Roads less than 25 miles long are exempted from the proposed law.

Notes.

The senate has passed Mr. Flickinger's bill authorizing Toledo to issue $8,000 in bonds for dredging Swan creek.

Mr. Ely's bill providing that county commissioners shall not let ditch contracts for less than 500 feet has passed the senate.

The senators this morning were in a dilemma over lost vouchers given a page boy to cash at the state treasury. He dropped the same from his pocket on the senate floor, and search was made for nearly an hour, and they were finally found. The total amount represented was $2,700.

In the senate yesterday the bill providing for the devision of the state into two oil districts passed and is now a law.

Senate bill by Mr. Shaw authorizing Goshen township, Auglaize county, to issue $4,000 in bonds to build a new school house is now a law, having passed the house yesterday afternoon.

Members of the different boards of trustees of the state will now have to secure the influence of superintendents of institutions if they want anybody appointed to place, as the law has been amended so that all appointments must be made by the superintendent and confirmed by the board of trustees.

LEAPED TO HER DEATH

Terrible Deep of an Insane Woman in the Wealthy Section of Hoboken.

New York, March 31.—Mrs. Margaret Doane, a handsome middle-aged woman, the wife of a produce dealer doing business in Washington market, threw herself with her 5-year old son Frank, from the third story of her residence, No. 259 Elworth street, Hoboken, this morning.

Mrs. Doane's arm and leg were broken and she was probably fatally injured internally.

Her boy's skull was fractured and his death is looked for at any moment.

The affair created intense excitement in the neighborhood, where the residents are mostly wealthy New York business men. Mrs. Doane is believed to have been insane.

VESUVIUS ACTIVE.

Naples, March 31.—The people are again in dread of an eruption of Vesuvius. The flow of lava is redder than usual, and other signs indicate danger.

SHOWED NO MERCY

Joseph Lytle, the Would-Be Murderer

Taken from His Cell in Jail

And Lynched in the Streets of Findlay.

A Night of Feverish Excitement.

The Wretch Was Game to the Last and Seemed to Acknowledge that Justice Was Being Done Him.

Findlay, O., March 31.—(Special)—The end has come—mob rule triumphed over justice, and Judge Lynch held his first session in Findlay and Hancock county early this morning.

As predicted in the Bee last night, the people took the law in their own hands and put an end to the miserable existence of Jos Lytle, the would-be butcher of his whole family.

A fully determined mob of citizens comprising all classes surrounded the county jail soon after midnight, and overpowering Sheriff Barloon, Marshal Myers and the entire city police force, battered down the iron doors of one of the strongest jails in the state with the aid of an oil well drill.

Securing the guilty wretch he was roughly jostled up to Main street.

One of the leaders suggested the iron bridge.

Away the mob went followed by hundreds of spectators.

A rope was quickly secured and thrown over one of iron girders and the body was quickly swung up.

The rope broke and the body fell, but it was quickly grabbed up and brought back to the corner of Main and West Front streets, in front of Stenvens' pawn shop, where another rope was thrown over an iron hook on a telephone pole and drawn up only about four feet from the ground where it was allowed to hang.

Some excited individual shouted "Fill him with bullets."

It was no sooner said than done and it is claimed over 20 bullet holes can be found in his body.

The mob then quitely dispersed seeming to be satisfied that they had done a good night's work by relieving this community of one of the worst characters that ever disgraced this county.

Corner Howell ordered the body cut down at about 2 o'clock this a. m., and taken to Smith's undertaking rooms where he will hold an inquest.

Several thousand persons have looked on the remains during the day.

Lytle seemed to have no fear of the mob, and when it had broken into the jail he called the attention of the leaders to his cell, telling them he was the man they wanted.

Lytle wrote the following note at about 9 o'clock last night in his cell:

"After you are through with me please hand the body over to my brother, Wm. Lytle. I want to be buried beside my mother. Farewell, vain world.
"JOS. LYTLE."

To the lynchers who were binding his hands and adjusting the noose he said: "Be good, boys, and don't follow my example."

The officers tried to spirit the criminal away in a hack, and started the report that he was to be taken to Lima on the midnight train, but the plan did not work.

While the majority of the citizens of Findlay are horrified over this blot on the city's fair name, they cannot help but feel that it was for the best, as several murders have occurred in this county and the murderers escaped with very light punishment.

Mrs. Lytle and her daughters, Misses Della and Emma, notwithstanding their terrible injuries, are resting easily and may all recover.

The report on the streets last night that one was dead and another dying had much to do with the lynching.

The leaders of the mob wore light muslin masks over their eyes to conceal their identity.

An effort, of course, will be made to determine who the guilty parties were, but it will be a very difficult matter.

This is the last act of the most exciting and horrible tragedy that ever occurred in the good old county of Hancock and the usual peaceful city of Findlay.

BUILDINGS FALLING DOWN.

An Exciting Day in Napoleon, Ohio.

The Front of One of the Large Stores Crumbles—Suits for Damages to Follow.

Napoleon, O., March 31.—(Special)—Two of Napoleon's largest and most prominent business blocks are suspended, as it were, by a hair.

Yesterday plumbers were at work near the front foundation, their work requiring that a portion of the wall be removed.

Early this morning a low, crushing, grinding noise was distinguished which rapidly increased until suddenly several columns fell in the middle of the front, followed by nearly half the front.

The walls are bulged and the whole structures are expected to fall every moment.

They are situated on the principal thoroughfare and travel is greatly impeded.

They are occupied by D. & J. Wilson's dry goods store and W. M. Spengler's wholesale grocery. The damage is already many thousands.

Mr. Spengler was doing the repairs, and Wilson will sue him for damages. Spengler was sued yesterday for $10,000 by a traveling salesman, having fallen through a cellarway, breaking several ribs.

SAO PAULO NOTES.

Rio Janeiro, March 31.—The latest news from the state of Sao Paulo is to the effect that a plot against the government has been discovered and conspirators have been arrested.

Congress has nominated a new government for Rio Grande du Sol and in this way has quieted discontented inhabitants of that state.

LUMBER FIRE.

Menominee, Wis., March 31.—Knapp, Stout & Co.'s two planing mills and lumber yards at Cedar Falls, burned last night. The loss is $75,000.

THE GAS BILL.

The house of representatives passed the Griffin bill yesterday to ratify the indebtedness contracted by the natural gas trustees. While that indebtedness represents outrageous bills and contracts which should never have been made, still, no well meaning citizen desires the trustees to be made personally liable for that debt. The city must pay the debt, but the extravagance should also stop at once.

The Griffin bill contains a few dangerously broad words which should be eliminated. It authorizes the trustees to do as they please hereafter, and contract any debt they may see fit. No citizen having the interest of Toledo at heart will approve that provision. It threatens bankruptcy and invites future repudiation. The senate ought to defeat the measure if the words "to construct, extend and complete" are left in the Griffin bill. This is business and must be attended to.

FAVORED THE GOVERNMENT.

Pacific Roads Must Maintain a Telegraph Service.

Washington, March 31.—Attorney General Miller was asked for an expression of his views in regard to the decision of Mr. Justice Brewer, in favor of the government in its suit against the Union Pacific Railroad company and the Western Union Telegraph company to compel the former to operate its own lines in accordance with the act of August 7, 1888, known as the Anderson act.

He said that he had nothing special to say about the decision except he naturally was gratified at the result. He gave a brief history of the case and said:

"This decision, of course, upholds the validity of the Anderson act and maintians the right of the government to demand of the railroad company the execution of its telegraph as well as railroad franchises. There are a number of other cases against Pacific railroads dependent upon the same principles which cover this decision. Whether the defendants will appeal to the supreme court is not known to me, although it seems very probable in view of the magnitude of the interests involved."

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

Senator Sherman Asked to Explain

What Progress Had Been Made on the Work.

The House Again in Committee of the Whole on the Free Wool Bill—General Mention.

Washington, March 31.—An animated silver discussion was sprung in the senate by a series of resolutions introduced by Mr. Morgan, of Alabama, which is to be continued to-morrow.

Pointed references were made by Mr. Morgan to the attitude of presidential candidates on the question.

Mr. Hill was present during the discussion but took no part in it.

The senate, by a vote of 29 to 34, refused to strike out the house provision authorizing the detail of army officers to act as Indian agents.

Mr. Allen, of Washington, presented a petition in relation to congressional assistance to the Nicaragua canal and remarked that he would like to know what progress was being made by the committee on foreign affairs in considering this matter.

Mr. Sherman stated that the Nicaragua canal was progressing satisfactorily under the work of a private corporation, chartered by congress. The company was making considerable progress, but congress had done nothing whatever to aid the enterprise.

A bill had been reported at the last session to aid them. A special committee of foreign relations was now taking testimony as to the present condition and future prosperity of the enterprise, but would probably be more diligent in its investigation if it were more hopeful of congressional assistance.

Mr. Hawley, from the committee on military affairs, reported, and the senate passed a bill, empowering the managers of the National soldiers' home to select their employes from among soldiers who served in the late war, instead of restricting them as now to the officers.

In the House.

Washington, March 31.—A resolution was passed authorizing the use of the Martello tower, on Tybee island, Georgia, for a signal station; also to protect foreign exhibitors at the Columbian exposition from prosecution for exhibiting wares protected by American patents and trademarks.

Also a bill to fix the time for holding courts in tthe district of West Virginia.

The house went into committee of the whole on the free wool bill, Mr. Brosius, of Pennsylvania, taking the floor in opposition to the bill.

New Buildings.

Washington, March 31.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds to-day ordered a favorable report on the following bills: Joliet, Ill., $65,000; Massillon, O., $40,000.

RICH SILVER FIND.

A Drummer Who Knew a Good Thing When He Saw It.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 31.—Jared Wincup, an old miner, first struck rich silver ore in the foothills back of Lordsburg last week. Two days ago he came in with specimens that assayed $1,800 to the ton.

J. H. Millzoner, a drummer, saw the specimens and followed the old prospector to his bonanza. He uncovered a lead which he declares is richer in silver than any ore he ever saw in Colorado.

He staked out a claim, and to-day many prospectors have started for the new camp.

In the mountain canons where Wincup uncovered this silver ledge there has been a tradition for over 30 years of a silver mine that was lost after its discovery by a man named Hines, one of the Mormons who settled San Bernardino.

The original discoverer died before he could guide any one to the treasure, and several men lost their lives searching for it.

JOHN WENK DEAD.

A Prominent Man at Wapakoneta Passes Away.

Wapakoneta, March 31.—(Special)—John Wenk, mine host of the Burnett house for many years, and one of the best known hotel men among the traveling fraternity, died this morning after a lingering illness. He was a prominent Knight of Pythias and member of the Royal Arcanum.

MILLBANK PRINTS A CARD

In Which He Stands by His Friend Borrowe.

He Is Ready to Accept Any Consequences.

If Drayton Wants to Fight He Will Try and Fill Him Full of Bullets or Sword Wounds.

New York, March 31.—Mr. Harry Vane Millbank, who acted as one of the seconds of Mr. Hallet Alsop Borrowe when a duel was on the tapis between the latter and Mr. J. Coleman Drayton, last night made a public statement which is intended to clear his principal from the imputation of cowardice put upon him by his opponent because of his refusal to meet the latter in mortal combat.

Mr. Millbank states emphatically that Mr. J. Coleman Drayton had made a monetary agreement with his wife, and that in view of this it was impossible, according to the code, for Mr. Borrowe to fight Mr. Drayton.

Mr. Millbank was very emphatic in declaring that he was willing to assume the full responsibility for the statement in any proceeding that Mr. Drayton and his friends might see fit to take.

"I do not know what this may result in," said Mr. Millbank, "nor do I care. They may go to law or call me out a dozen times, but I am bound that my friend, Mr. Borrowe, for whom I have acted throughout this affair, shall be set right before the public."

CITIZENS FROM CHILE.

Ex-Balmaceda Ministers Arrive in New York.

They Come Here to Educate Their Children.

Warm in Their Praise of Minister Egan Who Protected Them from the Congressional Warriors.

New York, March 31.—Two of the most important persons who took refuge in the United States legation at Santiago on the downfall last year of President Balmaceda, arrived in New York yesterday on the Pacific Mail steamship Newport, from Colon. They are Julio Banados Espinosa and J. E. McKenna, members of the so-called dictator's cabinet during the crucial period of his administration.

Senor McKenna was accompanied by his wife and six children.

At the Hotel Victoria he told a reporter of the United Press that it was his intention to make his home here for the next few years for the purpose of educating his children, and at the end of that time it was probable that he would return to Chile.

Referring to the terrible days of Balmaceda's downfall, Senor McKenna said that words could not express his feelings of gratitude to our minister, Patrick Egan, for his protection and shelter.

"That he was sustained by his government in that course," continued the ex-minister warmly, "was and is cause for deeper gratitude on our part to the great and noble American government. We were four months and a half at the legation, and in all that time, despite the terrible drain we were on Mr. Egan, we were treated with every courtesy and kindness possible.

"At first we were about 100 in all. Our number was gradually decreased after the congressionalists established themselves in the government until at last we were only 12."

Senor McKenna, in conclusion, again took occosain to speak very highly of Minister Egan and said he won and enjoys the respect and esteem of both sides. He predicted that the congressionalists, before very long, will grant amnesty to all political exiles.

Senor Espinosa is staying at the Hotel America. He is famed throughout his country for his knowledge of law and skill in practice, and as a statesman is conceded even by his opponents to be one of the most astute that Chile ever produced. This is his first visit to this country and his admiration of New York, predisposed as he was to like everything American by reason of his deep gratitude to the United States, is unbounded.

WILL QUIT THE TRADE.

Seventy-five Cattle Thieves Marked for the Rope.

An Organized Raid to be Made on Rustlers.

Ranch Owners Have Grown Weary of Having Their Property Spirited Away by Pirates.

Butte, Mont., March 31.—In 1888, in northern Montana, between forty and fifty cattle thieves were hanged by ranchers as rapidly as they could be captured, but Wyoming promises to beat the record.

For 10 years a band of cattle rustiers have operated east and south of the National park. Courts have been powerless to convict, owing to the perfect organization of trained witnesses, whose testimony was overwhelmingly in favor of the defendants. The thieves for a long time have been doing business in an incorporated company.

A delegation of 30 cattlemen from eastern Montana passed through here a few days ago armed to the teeth, and with horses and grain.

Near Lander they were to meet, by agreement, at least 150 men from different points in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Nebraska, and all heavily armed.

The expedition was to move northward fully 200 strong, and is probably now in the heart of the cattle country hanging rustlers. At least 75, and perhaps 100, of these rustlers will go out of the stock business.

No definite news of this wholesale hanging will reach a telegraph office for a week or ten days after the clean-up takes place.

The cattle companies, it is understood, raised $2,000 to defray the expenses of the expedition.

CHICAGO GOSSIP.

The Windy City Must Get a Hustle On

In the Matter of Intramural Transit.

Something About Those Boodle Aldermen.

The Mayor, the Newspapers and the Compressed Air Ordinance—Inside a Dry Goods Emporium.

Chicago, March 31.—(Special)—The question of transportation is the unsolved problem yet before Chicago in connection with the World's fair. From the center of the business portion of the city three great cable roads run trains, a few minutes apart, north, south and west. The beginning-to-be-antiquated horse cars roll along in the same directions. The only electric street car system is one in the outlying section of the West Side. Suburban trains of steam railway cars also bring to the city and carry away great loads of passengers. The intramural transit provided accommodates well enough a city of a million inhabitants—when nothing happens.

But Chicago has a million and a quarter inhabitants, by computation that even St. Louis cannot dispute. And again, something is always happening, as with all transit facilities everywhere. Let a cable break, and almost before one finds out what is the matter the congested stream of travel is shown in the great crowds upon the principal down town corners, waiting for cars.

I had occasion to note this the other day, when the West Side cable broke in Washington street tunnel. There is one corner, LaSalle and Washington, where the cable cars rolling up from the North Side tunnel and the West Side cable cars both turn, in opposite directions, and which has received the significant nickname of Hell's crossing, from the danger that is always there for foot passengers, and the disasters that too often occur there. Well, on this evening, five minutes after the cable broke, the sidewalk was black with a packed mass of people, waiting transportation to the West Side, and that cable was not in running condition for nearly 24 hours thereafter. Don't ask me how those hundreds got home, for I can't answer. One small person I know who was westward bound walked two and a half miles.

When everything is in working order, there are hours of the day, from 6:30 to 8:30 a. m. and 5:30 to 7 p. m., when all the transportation facilities of Chicago are inadequate to meet the demands of its resident population. Women who have worked all day go home at night standing in the aisles like sardines packed in a box, and men hang on to the platform and to the sides of the cars, literally by one foot. Now and then in close quarters one gets knocked off and killed, and the next day the papers demand more accommodations for patrons of the street cars, and some undertaker gets a job, and that's the end of it.

This reminds me. Men in Chicago street cars are for the most part not a bit gallant. They do not give their seats up to women, as a rule, but bury their noses in their morning or evening papers, according to the time of day, and let on they do not see the representatives of the weaker sex, standing before them, swaying with every jolt of the cars, tumbling into the laps of strangers, and making frantic grasps for straps out of their reach.

After a month's sojourn here I quite appreciate a story I read just before coming. If the Bee has told it before it will bear repeating, and here it is:

A man in a Chicago street car, full and happy, rose to give his seat to a lady. herself, another man slipped into the place. Gazing on him with wide-eyed, drunken gravity, the first man said:

"Well, I'm drunk. I'm most —— drunk. But I shall get over it in the morning. But you—(shaking his head at the occupant of his seat) you—you'll never get over what ails you!"

What ailed the occupant who took the seat appears to be chronic with a great many men in Chicago. Not that there are not gentlemen here. There are a good many men who rise to give a lady a seat. And they have a pretty way of tipping their hats when they offer it, which a true lady always appreciates, and involuntarily answers with "Thank you."

Now I ask any one with common sense, this being the condition of travel inside Chicago when no special visitors are here, how are the thousands of visitors the world's fair will bring to be cared for if something is not done, which, if done, must be done right speedily.

What Chicago Needs.

Chicago needs, for the transportation of her own citizens, to say nothing of the world's fair, an L road from the south side to the center, from the west side to the center. And she needs cross-town cars. For there is a curious lack of these last, not enough roads having been started running due north and south. Why doesn't she have them?

Have you read of the boodle aldermen indictments? That tells the story. Nothing in the shape of a franchise passes the city council unless these is "something in it" for boodle aldermen. Nine have been indicted up to the present writing, but as 46 votes go together, it will occur to any business man that franchises come high in this city.

Contemplated L Roads.

There is a South Side elevated road in process of construction. If it is finished as at present contemplated it will run from near the fair grounds to the heart of the city. A West Side elevated has also a mile or so of road bed built. A franchise for this was secured by some Chicago men, the length of the road agreed upon between the council and the syndicate was built, and the syndicate recovered the money it deposited to build this length, since when, more than a year, not a nail has been driven or a stanchion erected extending the road. It is now said that a New York syndicate has bought out the original syndicate, and that they will complete the road to the business center, and will end it in the top of a mammoth dry goods house, which these New Yorkers will also own.

Dry Goods Houses.

By the way, these mammoth dry goods houses of Chicago are a study, all by themselves. I visited one the other day, extending a block in all directions, and shooting skyward seven stories. Here could be bought everything man or woman could wear, from hat or bonnet to shoes; reading matter for every grade of intellect; household furnishing and utensils of every description. Here on one floor was an office window, over which was the inscription, "Pay your gas bills here." And you really could, and save yourself steps. Over another, "Bank of Deposit," and at this window you could deposit any change you happened to have left from your shopping, receive the stamp book of the firm for the amount, and have something to your credit when you come again. Up one flight of stairs was a dentist's office, where you could have your teeth pulled. In the basement was a restaurant where you could get a meal to make your teeth ache. In fact, this very complete dry goods house would furnish you with anything but a burial casket. Some enterprising Chicagoan reading this will, I am sure, add an undertaking establishment to his dry goods paraphernalia, and be ready for all emergencies of life and death.

One thing touched me, I own. Looking up three stories from the ground floor I saw a blue line of little girls. "What is that?" I asked in my rural ignorance, of my city guide. "That is the school," she said. "This store employs a teacher who is busy all day. Its cash girls are divided into classes in a way that does not interfere with trade, and one class of them is under instruction all day, each class receiving about two hours' instruction, in all fundamental branches of common school education. Every girl has her turn, and there is a school in progress all day." God bless the proprietors, (and many stores have the system) who think more of educating these little girls than their own parents think.

So you see, the New York syndicate, if it builds an elevated road from the west side to the center, and enters the top of a dry goods building whose lower stories it will own and control, has its work cut out.

A Corrupt Government.

The trouble about furnishing proper intramural transit, to come back to our subject, is that no individuals, corporations or syndicates can secure right of way privileges without buying boodle men in the council. Everybody knows it, and everybody is at the mercy of it. A business man, not at all connected with transit—in the heating business in fact—told me he went to the alderman of his ward to get action on a bill connected with heating whereby lives would be saved, and the alderman, for whom he had voted, brazenly said: "What's in this for us?" When told it was for the general safety, and that men who had safe plants for heating would make nothing out of its passage, this wretch refused to introduce or advocate the measure.

I am not saying there are not clean and honest men in the city council, but every reputable citizen here assures me such are a powerless minority. "The gang" runs the council.

Look at one of the measures voting for which the nine aldermen so far indicted are accused of bribe-taking—the compressed air ordinance. It passed the council by the infamous forty-six votes. It is a franchise which has no termination, in other words grants perpetual privilege to the holders of the charter, and it gives:

"The right of way along, upon, and under all the avenues, streets, alleys, and public places in said city, for the purpose of placing, operating, repairing, and maintaining a line of mains, pipes and pneumatic tubing, and all necessary service pipes and appliance in connection therewith for the distribution of compressed air for motive power, and for heating, cooling, and sanitary ventilation; also for the transmission of power, articles, and materials through tubes; provided, however, no oil or gas shall be transmitted through said tubes."

Was there ever such a reckless surrender of city streets and alleys to a private corporation? And, as the Herald points out in every issue, for use by a motive power that it has not yet been successfully demonstrated in any city of the world can be successfully applied. Even in Paris, where it has been at most cost successfully experimented upon, the compressed air system has neither heated, cooled, nor ventilated—anything.

And yet this Chicago council has voted such mischievous power to a company of almost unknown men, and the city is practically at their mercy. No wonder public sentiment has demanded and, it is said, secured proof that the votes of the aldermen giving away these rights, in perpetuity, were bought. Whatever the general impression may be, the prosecution begun is not a party dodge. The majority of the aldermen voting for this franchise are democrats. The mayor who failed to veto the ordinance is a republican.

Mayor Washburne had seven days in which to consider the ordinance after its passage. The morning after the council acted he was waited on by the aldermen who had opposed it, and by scores of other reputable citizens, and entreated not to sign the ordinance until they had time to investigate and lay before him evidence of corruption on the part of the council and of bad faith on the part of the compressed air company. He faithfully promised to do as he was entreated to do, and before that night he signed the ordinance.

Mayor Washburne, of Chicago, is every whit as bad a mayor as Mayor Emmick, of Toledo, and very much like him in promising to do things and then doing the contrary. I am aware such a comparison is hard on Washburne, but he deserves it. Every reputable newspaper of this city has gone back on him, regardless of politics. The Times and Herald are not more severe on him than the Inter-Ocean and Tribune. The latter has made formal apology for advocating his election, and Washburne has retaliated by stopping his paper! Strange to say, the Tribune still lives.

Heretofore a great deal has been forgiven the mayor of Chicago because of the name, highly honored in Illinois, he bears. Now it is bluntly said he is no more fitted to represent the Washburnes who went before him than Benny I. is to wear grandpa's hat. After all, the American people care precious little for tradition, and that sort of thing. When the test comes, every man must stand or fall by his own deeds. And this is true of mayors as well as lesser folk. If a mayor, whether of Chicago or of Toledo, has no backbone, the people find it out and rate him accordingly.

And yet it is confidently asserted here these indictments amount to nothing, and nothing will come of these investigations. One thing is noticeable, the king of the boodlers, the alderman who has for years been pointed out as "the attorney of corruptionists," is not yet indicted, nor is his name mentioned as one of those who may summer at Joliet.

One thing is certain. Chicago must speedily get herself together, and provide for more and better transportation facilities than she now possesses, or the time of the World's fair will see her unable to take care of her guests. As I said in a previous letter, the South Side will not accommodate them all. The city must be able to transport them north and west.

Cullom Gets Out of the Way of the Machine.

The Power of the Adminstration Is Shown.

The Illinois Senator Comes to the Front and Booms Harrison for a Renomination.

Washington, March 31.—Senator Cullom has sent the following self-explanatory letter to ex-Mayor Roche of Chicago:

"United States Senate,
Washington, D. C.,
March 28, 1892.

"Hon. John H. Roche, Chicago, Ill.:

"My Dear Friend—Your favor of the 25th in which you inquire concerning my wishes in reference to the selection of a delegation to be chosen by the republicans in the several congressional districts and by our state convention to represent the party in the national convention, to be held at Minneapolis June next, has been received, and I take pleasure in answering you frankly as to my position.

"I have said to republicans who have written to me and to the gentlemen representing the press who have interviewed me that I would esteem it a high honor to have the support of the Illinois delegation in the national republican convention for president of the United States; and would be pleased to have such delegation do all that honorably could be done to secure me the nomination.

"I have had many letters asking me to leave my post of duty here and come to our state and take part in the campaign going on there between candidates for the several state offices, and also to look after my own interest in the selection of delegates to the national convention. I have declined to do so, and as I am situated I do not feel at liberty to leave my official duties to take part in any campaign for myself or any one else, and would not now do so for any office.

"To the people of the state of Illinois, who have honored me repeatedly with their confidence and whom I have served officially for many years, I am grateful. I desire, however, that my name shall not be longer used as a candidate for the office of president. The people seem to favor the renomination of President Harrison, whose administration has been able, clean, courageous and patriotic.

"I am a republican, I believe in the principles and policies of the party, and I expect always to do my part, as I may be able, in upholding it while in power and securing for it victory. We have before us in Illinois and in the nation a great and stubborn battle. We must have harmony in our ranks if we are to be assured of success either in the state or nation.

"Our state and national conventions should be wise in the selection of candidates who are most likely to give our party success in the state and nation, and by success give assurance of the continuance of our present wise, strong and patriotic foreign policy; a well-considered fiscal policy, the foundation principle of which is honest money for an honest people; a revenue policy under which American trade and industries will be carefully fostered and American labor jealously protected; of an internal policy that will make navigation safe and sure on our great rivers, that will give commerce between the states protection from extortions and unjust discriminations, that will give the country a pure and competent civil service, that will compel regard for the rights of every citizen of every state, that will make the government puissant in its parts and invincible in their unity.

"With respect, I am very truly yours,
"S. M. CULLOM."

IT IS NOT WHAT WE SAY,

But what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that makes it sell, and has given it such a firm and lasting hold upon the confidence of the people.

For a dinner pill and general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills.

AND IT IS AGGRAVATING.

As a rule most people are intensely exasperated when, after wading through some exciting story in the newspaper which they have devoured with breathless interest, to find at the finish it is only a trap to advertise some wonderful soap or patent medicine. Of course its disappointing, but just consider how cleverly its done, and, by the way, what a wonderful industry has been developed in this mode of advertising. Some of the great medicine firms pay their advertising agent as high as $10,000 a year, and a certain manufacturer of soap pays his advertiser $25,000. Just think of it, and while you are thinking just remember that "She Couldn't Marry Three" is the best show on the road.

THE LAST DAY

Which the C., J. & M. Railroad Will Be Under a Receiver.

With the dawn of to-morrow the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw railroad passes from the hands of the receiver into the possession of the new organization. As has been stated in the Bee, there will be no change in the management, and all employes will discharge their present duties

A NICE LITTLE BABY

Left on the Door Step with a "Pome" Attached to Its Bib.

A pretty little two months old girl baby was left on the front door-step of Mr. D. C. Reese's residence, 116 Tecumseh street, yesterday. The infant was handsomely dressed and pinned to the dress was a note reading as follows:

Please take me in and use me well,
For who my parents are I never can tell.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese, having no children, have decided to adopt the little waif.

PASSENGER AGENT INJURED.

A. A. Jack Loses a Hand by the Explosion of a Gun.

Local railroad men will be pained to learn of the sad misfortune which has befallen A. A. Jack, passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, who has an extensive acquaintance in Toledo.

While out hunting at Monroe, his home, his gun exploded and injured his right hand hand to such an extent that amputation of the member was necessary.

OVER THE TRANSOM.

Hotel Thief Scared Before He Secures Any Booty.

A fellow who is believed to be a professional hotel thief entered the room of Miss Dorothy Morton, of the Wilbur Opera company, at the Merchants' hotel last night. While the man was in her room the young lady awoke, and her screams soon brought help, and the thief was very suddenly ejected. He had registered at the hotel as S. W. Adams, of New York, and gained entrance to Miss Morton's room by climbing over the transom.

PROF. VINCENT

Again Lectures, This Time on Percy Bysshe Shelley.

Another good-sized audience of invited friends of the Smead seminary assembled at the Ashland Avenue Baptist church last evening and listened to a splendid lecture by Prof. Leon H. Vincent on that eccentric genius and poet, Percy Bysshe Shelley.

The lecture was confined to the strange life of this peculiar man and little was said of his works in particular. Mr. Vincent's lectures are very interesting and instructive, and in all of his remarks and criticisms he is fair and just.

MADE A HAUL.

The Police Swoop Down on a House of Ill Fame.

Detectives Duffy and Gilroy with a squad of policemen made a raid on Emma Godi's place, 413 Washington street, at midnight last night and their efforts resulted in a good haul. Besides the mistress the officers took in Minnie Williams, Lott Meyers and John Fuller, for residing in a house of ill fame, and William Wood, Barney Vanderhoff, Joshua Meyers, Henry Revels, Frank Sherman, Joseph Eiden, James Campbell, Michael Howley, Paul Roder, Cynthia Roder, and Walter Lyons, for visiting. In police court this morning the cases were continued until next Wednesday.

THE THIRTY-THIRD

Annual Report of Toledo's Trade and Commerce.

The Bee is in receipt of the thirty-third annual report, with the compliments of Secretary D. B. Smith, of Toledo's trade and commerce, compiled for the Produce exchange. As usual, the book is replete with interesting information concerning the business of "the Future Great," and while filled with statistics, they are so set forth that to examine them is a pleasure.

Mr. Smith introduces his exhibits with a carefully prepared review on several topics entering into the welfare of Toledo, and gives many reasons why the city is better off than other localities. The report will repay careful perusal.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Attorney Chase Files a Cas eon Taxation.

George A. Chase, administrator, against Samuel Hunter, treasurer, error to the circuit court of Lucas county, was filed in the supreme court to-day. The plaintiff in error sets up that the estate he represents is being illegally taxed, and the circuit court has allowed a permanent injunction against the water bond tax and the penalty charged and dismissed the petition as to the relief asked for against the county, corporation, natural gas bond and school bond. In the lower court the claim was set up that $561.44 is the total state, county, corporation and school tax of Lucas county on a valuation of personal property in the amount of $19,369 for the year 1890—$28.07, the penalty charged, making the total $589.50, and asks to be relieved from paying the penalty and the excess. He sets up 13 reasons why the lower courts should be overruled and the plaintiff in error restored to all things he has lost by reason of the errors in the lower courts.—Columbus Dispatch, 30th.

SOT DOWN ON IT.

Samantha Allan Crushed the Carnival News Force.

Quite a sensation was created at the Authors' carnival last evening when "Samantha Allan," or Mrs. H. N. Adams, rushed into the Carnival News office and fiercely objected to the following item which the News had published about her:

"Samantha was truly a sharp-visaged, file-toned, upheaded, go-ahead-and-see-the-world, grasping, penny-squeezing woman of the way down east Yankee type, who didn't propose to let A. T. Stewart sell her or Josiah anything she didn't want, at her price. Mrs. H. N. Adams was splendid in this character and the life of the carnival."

When the printers, editors, etc., saw her coming, they immediately made pretensions of getting away, and she declared that she would suppress the paper, that she "would set right down on it," and so saying she jumped upon the table and "sot" there. This was so characteristic of this personage and the seance was so completely carried out that it proved an interesting incident.

VERDICT SET ASIDE

In the Shomer Emunim Damage Case.

In common pleas court to-day the motion for a new trial in the case of John F. Eschenroder against the Shomer Emunim congregation, was granted, the verdict of the jury being set aside. It was an action to recover damages sustained to the plaintiff's house, which stands adjoining the defendants' church on Michigan street. A verdict of $500 was returned for the plaintiff.

THROW UP YOUR DUKES.

Boxing Exhibition at the Athletic Club Rooms.

Another boxing exhibition, under the auspices of Jack Kirwin, will be given at the Maumee Athletic club rooms, on Adams street, Saturday evening. The program is the best one that has yet been arranged and will consist of nine bouts between clever young pugilists, the wind-up to be a four-round bout between Billy Steffers, of Toledo, and Frank Schaff, of Defiance, who made such a clever fight several weeks ago.

EASTER OPENING.

The Neuhausels Making an Easter Display To-Day.

Neuhausel Bros. are having an Easter opening to-day in the millinery department of their store. One of the finest stocks in the city is exhibited with the latest styles in trimmed hats. The decorations, consisting of a large floral umbrella, baskets of flowers, etc., are very attractive. This department is presided over by Miss Jennie Murphy, and the large crowd which has visited the store to-day are more than pleased with the display.

THE SUNSHINE CIRCLE

Entertain in a Handsome Manner at Westminster Church.

A delightful entertainment was given last evening at Westminster chapel by the Sunshine Circle of Kings' Daughters. A very clever program was first rendered and participated in by Miss Ward, Miss Sophie Mery, Miss Carrie Ritchie, Miss Anna Mery, Miss Jessie Perigo, Miss Anna James, Miss Mattie Norton, Miss Maclaren, Miss Perla Bowman and the Fachutar Bros. This program was followed by an informal reception, and the entire evening was most pleasantly spent.

THE OFT-TOLD TALE.

A Poor Girl Wanders Into the Station with a Sad Story.

Gertrude Lowrey, claiming to come from Lincoln, Illinois, turned up at the police station this afternoon with a sad story, and is being cared for by the authorities. It is the old tale of being led astray by a faithless man. The girl is but 18 years old, and is in an interesting condition.

She says that the author of her trouble is a Lincoln man named Gail, who has been keeping company with her for two years. According to the girl's story, she has no relatives, and this man sent her to Toledo to be cared for and treated until her child is born. She arrived here Tuesday, but as she had no money, and the man who sent her refused to send the doctor any money, he refused to take care of her, and she has been wandering the streets until a lady sent her to the police station. Miss Lowrey also claims that the man who ruined her is married, though she did not know this until a few weeks ago.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ELECTION.

"Erny" Stewart and Tom Rooney Win with Hands Down.

For some time the members of Toledo Typographical union have been engaged in a contest for the delegateship to the international session to be held in Philadelphia in June. The election occurred yesterday, from 4 to 7 p. m., and resulted in the choice of Mr. E. M. Stewart, of the Bee, and Mr. Tom Rooney, of the Blade, the vote being as follows: E. M. Stewart, 84; Thos. Rooney, 56; W. E. Phillips, 41; Frank Kraus, 12; C. P. Fister, 29. Mr. Stewart has resided in Toledo since 1879, and holds the "ad." cases on the Bee, while Mr. Rooney is a native of the Future Great, and has had a "sit." on the Blade for years. Both are popular with the prints, as the vote clearly shows.

The members also voted on the propositions submitted by the International union for a change in the constitution, a change being approved. Should a majority of the unions vote likewise, a weekly sick benefit will hereafter be paid, and also a death benefit.

THE AUTHORS' CARNIVAL

Repeated in a Successful Manner at the First Presbyterian.

The Carnival of the Romantic was repeated last evening at the First Presbyterian church, and was even more of a success than the previous evening. A great deal of credit is due to the ladies who have worked so faithfully in perfecting the entertainment. The Carnival News got out three editions full of first class news matter and paying advertisements, some of which were as follows:

WANTED—A true and tried Anti-Fat Remedy. Address with two-cent stamp, R. A. Brinkerhoff, H. B. Sears, or H. N. Adams.

BOOM FOR SALE CHEAP—A gilt-edged patent expansion boom for another Presbyterian church in Toledo. Apply to J. H. Ainsworth, agent.

WANTED—A few clients, with plenty of cash, that are spoiling for litigation. Address W. H. R., Superior street, city.

WANTED—An advance in telegraph rates and no government control. Address F. M. G., corner Summit and Madison streets.

WANTED—A place to buy wild ducks when I go to Vienna, Mich. Must be fresh killed, with shot gun. Address Dr. G., corner Adams and Warren.

WANTED—Five or six men who can go into a secret meeting, at night, without telling everything they know the next day to some persistent lady reporter. Address with references, The Ladies' Society.

Editors Tippett and Martin are overflowing with intellectual brilliancy and poetry, and were instrumental in making the press do its work last night. The characters represented have been subjects for many complimentary comments, and the evenings of pleasure will be long remembered by those in attendance.

If the democrats of Toledo get out their full vote next Monday several, if not all, of the candidates will be elected. Rally to the polls for the good of Toledo.

Everybody is come out ahead and everybody ought to be satisfied. The English papers laud Lord Salisbury for "getting the best of it," and the United States papers remark with cheering unanimity that "Lord Salisbury has gotten down off his high horse."

A quarter of a million dollars, the sum demanded by Mrs. Baldwin, a victim in the N. Y. Central railway accident at Hastings, sounds large. But where is the man or woman who would exchange both ears, both eyes, both hands and a portion of their scalp for that sum?

British reports show an increase of 2.6 per cent. in quantity and 6 per cent. in valuation in the carpets exported in February. How does this affect the price to consumers in this country? Prices of foreign and domestic goods have both advanced, and the new tax law is responsible. Sound its praises, ye manufacturers.

Will the northern shriekers against the treatment of the negro in the south draw any conclusions from the fact that the Tennessee negroes who came north to work on Dr. Webb's railroad in the Adirondacks turned about and went home starved, swindled and disgusted? McKinley protection to labor somehow fails to reach cases like this.

Judge Lamar's serious illness is to be deplored for many reasons. Not the least of these is that his taking-off would give opportunity for appointment of another republican to the supreme bench which is already unwholesomely partisan. Fortunately for the country, there is not another Judge Woods awaiting reward for infamy. Our disgrace of that kind will suffice for one generation.

President Harrison and Senator Quay have embraced across the yawning chasm. The president pledges the administration to the supp[illegible] of the senator in his battle for re[illegible]n, and Secretaries Fos-dent's ass[illegible]s. Peace broods over Pennsylvania but not by any means a white-winged peace. The machine, in the most obnoxious meaning of the word, has republicanism in the Quaystone state helplessly in its grip.

Gov. McKinley was made the recipient of a pair of wool blankets from a factory in the northwest, with the information that they were the first of the kind ever made in the country, and that the McKinley law did it. Now comes a manufacturer from St. Mary's, O., who spoils the pretty story by saying that he has made hundreds of such blankets every week in the year for twenty years. Too bad this high-tax law cannot be made retroactive.

The route of the Hebrews who are expelled from the czar's empire has been across Germany to seaport towns. Now Germany has issued a decree that this exodus across its territory is from henceforth prohibited, and 400,000 Hebrews are in despair, not knowing what way to turn to get out of Russia. It is a cruel condition of things. If it were not for international politics the civilized, Christianized world would read the autocrat of the Russias a lesson he would not speedily forget.

The very liberal appropriation recommended for the Toledo harbor is largely due to the commanding influence of Congressman Haynes, who has been faithful in season and out of season to the interests of all his constituents. He deserves the thanks of this community, especially, for his attention to the wants of Toledo. Still, a congressman representing this city has a selfish and thankless constituency, quickly forgetful of the extra good service of their zealous representative. It was so in the case of Mr. Hurd, who secured the appropriation for the government building, and who obtained the first substantial recognition of the demand for a straight channel to the lake. Partisanship and politics completely overshadowed Mr. Hurd's great service, and he was dropped from congress where he was a state and national figure. And so it is generally with the politics of this locality. The happy-go-lucky, slip-along, good-Lord-and-good-Devil sort of a fellow lasts longer and gets more votes. It shouldn't be so, but it is.

"A grand public demonstration," so it was billed, was held at Cooper union, New York city, Monday evening, "in aid of the Irish parliamentary party and home rule for Ireland." The meeting was packed with enthusiastics so divided in sentiment that it was riotous throughout. Gladstone's name was hissed, and every mention of Parnell cheered to the echo, to the great confusion of the speakers who were trying to show that Gladstone was the Irishman's Moses. Men and women were unceremoniously hustled by the police, and Parnellites were ejected from the hall, but still the audience and the platform were at variance. This may be the way to further the home rule cause, but it does not appear so.

George William Curtis says, "The true course for the man who cannot follow a tariff debate in all its intricacy of disputed detail is to trust to a few simple general principles."

And these underlying principles are simply: To rob one man to enrich another does not bring general prosperity; to give an industry unnatural stimulation is to unbalance the natural conditions of exchange and work injury to those involved in the buying or the selling; in a land of professed equal rights, to lay one class of producers under tribute for the benefit of another class is a manifest injustice, that, carried to its legitimate results will create and foster an aristocracy of wealth in contradistinction to a subjective class of laboring peasantry that must gradually sink into the condition of serfs.

The Chicago Tribune, criticising Senator Hill's speeches on his southern tour, asks him to remember that thirteen states (counting Missouri and Kentucky) seceded from the union. The Louisville Courier-Journal calls the Tribune down in fine style as follows:

The Tribune should know enough of recent history to know that neither Missouri nor Kentucky ever seceded from the union. For one hundred years Kentucky has without interruption maintained its honored place in the union. It was Kentucky blood and valor that conquered Illinois from the savage. It was Kentucky statesmanship that saved Illinois from British dominion after the revolutionary war and pushed the boundary lines west to the Mississippi. It was Kentucky determination that forced the federal government to keep the Mississippi open to the commerce of the west.

Kentucky furnished its full quota of troops to the union army, and the losses among those troops showed that they fought valiantly. In every battle in the west, from Belmont to Nashville, were union troops from Missouri and Kentucky. The loyalty of the middle states saved the union.

There are twenty works in the United States which are either making or are prepared to make tin plates or terne plates, and reports show ten additional tin plate works in the course of erection. —Organ.

These are the same works that were "preparing to make tin or terne plates" and were "in course of erection" a year and a half ago. And yet these fellows mean somebody else when they talk about "tin plate liars." It's ridiculous nonsense. No tariff reformer ever professed to believe that tin plate "could not be manufactured in this country." With governmental aid, almost any industry can be made to overtop other industries that must suffer in consequence. We could grow tea, under glass, with the necessary conditions paid for out of the public treasury. The question at issue is the old one and the only one: Is it the prerogative of a professedly free government to boom one or a score of industries, at the expense of hundreds of others?

A contributor to the Twentieth Century has been in Washington to group some figures in connection with the land grants of the government to corporations during the later years of our national existence. The result is enough to give a lover of justice shivers of apprehension and indignation. Hrere is the showing:

Lands granted since September 20, 1850, to the opening of the civil war, 30,470,920.25 acres; lands granted during the most trying period of the war—July 1, 1861, to July 2, 1864—96,059,569.69 acres, a squandering in three years of more than three times as much as during the 10 years preceding the late unpleasantness; lands granted since the civil war to March 3, 1871, 85,360,000 acres. They were then "reconstructing" the country with all the zeal of northern saintliness. The grand total of the lands so squandered for the benefit of the "public spirited" railway companies, whose paid attorneys represented (?) the people in the United States congress, amounted, therefore, to 211,890,489.94 acres. (This does not include the lands granted to wagon road and canal companies for the purpose of doing their share in the development of the country's resources). An area capable of supplying 2,118,905 families with 100 acres each, and, counting the average of five persons to each family, it will give us a total of 10,594,525 persons who were thus deprived by their paid army of officeholders of their natural right to free access to the unclaimed "public" domain! Is not this the greatest conspiracy that was ever known in the history of any "free" people?

The industrious administration organs are determined President Harrison shall not be without a jingo issue until after election. Chile apologized abjectly, and in the Bering sea business Lord Salisbury is coming off his perch one step at a time, but British encroachment in Venezuela remains to be checked. The Washington Post publishes the report that "Great Britain, in pursuit of her aggrandizing policy, has taken possession of a large tract of Venezuelan territory, equivalent in area to the state of South Carolina, rich in gold and silver mines, and taking in the Essequibo river, and annexed it to British Guiana," and calls on President Harrison to enter the protest of the United States against this wholesale seizure of lands of an American republic. By all means let President Harrison so proceed, if the report is verified. The Monroe doctrine was the promulgation of a good democrat, and the democracy stands by it. The invasion on Venezuelan territory by Great Britain was protested against and temporarily checked by Secretary Bayard, and the same course should now be pursued if necessary. As democrats stood by the president in the Chilean and Bering sea matters they will stand by him in any proper attitude toward foreign nations, and they will also take care that the president they elect next November shall be one who will continue the policy, "America for Americans," without regard to party lines.

DEMOCRATS, ATTENTION.

If you want to vote a straight ticket next Monday put your mark opposite the words "Democratic Ticket." Last fall several hundred votes were cast with the X mark opposite the head candidate on the ticket. Every one of such tickets counted for the one candidate only, and were lost for the other candidates. Bear this in mind next Monday. Put your X just where you want it to count.

MANY REPUBLICANS

Intend scratching their tickets Monday. Do it by putting an X mark opposite each democratic candidate for whom you desire to vote. Make your protest against bad government count.

In the light of recent investigation and disclosure in Massachusetts, it would seem an affirmative answer might be returned to this question, which the Courier-Journal asks: "Has the McKinley law stimulated Boston baby-farming?" And the affirmative answer would not be one whit more ridiculous than the claim which is made that the McKinley law "stimulated" the satisfactory sales of last year's crops.

The Boston Journal has a bad spell about the lynchings in the south, of brutal colored men who outrage white women and children. Every person in the country deprecates it, but let the innocent and helpless victim of a burly negro be the wife or daughter of a Boston gentleman—would indignation at the method of correction be quite so strong? It is a hard matter to put oneself in another's place.

Ferd Ward took a very round-about way to learn a good trade. He went to Sing Sing a banker, guilty of embezzlement, and now declares the trade of a printer which he has learned while there shall be his reliance for support the rest of his life. His term expires in April.

A combine of umbrella and parasol manufacturers in New York, Boston and Philadelphia is the latest. Fortunately for the purchasing public the season of spring rains will soon be over, and against the sunstroke of summer there is the protection of carrying a cabbage leaf in one's hat.

From now henceforth the English government must give inch by inch, to democratic progress. The house of commons refuses franchise to its subjects in India, but the fact that it was the matter for hot debate in that body signifies a great deal.

Poor little Rhoda! the eloquence that is booked to be poured forth within her borders for the week to come is enough to overflow and deluge the surrounding country. Rhoda is little, but oh, my!

The opinion of the Philadelphia Times is that the further the pension office investigation goes the plainer it is that what is needed is an application of chloride of lime, and not whitewash.

If Secretary Foster can find out who has been telling how things are going in the treasury department, off will go that officer's head a la Raum. Great big "free" country this.

There goes the Boston Herald again inviting Gov. McKinley to veto the Ohio gerrymander

THE SPRING CAMPAIGN.

The Democratic City and Ward Tickets Should Be Elected.

There has been complaint for two years about the almost impassable condition of the streets of Toledo. Bower has been incompetent in every particular, not having qualifications for the position which he holds. Mr. Louis Steuer, his opponent this time on the contrary, will fulfill his duties acceptably to the public. He has the intelligence, the desire, and the brains to make a first class street commissioner. Vote for him.

The democratic nominees for aldermen and councilmen are all clean men, and in the event of election will see that a change for the better in the city government. Toledo has suffered through carelessness in the council, and now a good opportunity is presented to secure a reversal of the order which has prevailed. In fact, the best interests of the city will be served by the election of the democratic city and ward tickets.

Mr. Thomas O'Neill, who is the candidate for assessor on the democratic ticket in the Third ward, has been a resident of Toledo for 42 years, and has resided in the Third ward all of that time. He has paid an average of $300 per year in taxes for 30 years, to say nothing of the special taxes for improvements and the like. That's the kind of a man to elect as assessor.

Frank Tillman is an old and respected citizen of Toledo. He is a candidate for assessor in the Fifth ward. Satisfaction was expressed with his work last year, and he can do better the next time. All of the nominees for assessors are equally good men and should be elected.

O. A. Browning and Theodore C. Lauer are excellent selections for the gas board. Mr. Browning is well known as a sterling business man. Mr. Lauer is truck foreman in the Wabash shops, a practical mechanic, and a man of good judgment. Let's elect both of them.

Fred Schultz appears to be crowding Phil Hassenzahl for alderman from the First ward, judging from the wail of the latter's friends. Fred is a taxpayer, a good man generally, and his election is assured.

It will be Alderman Lamb after next Monday. He is winning friends daily, and, as he is not the candidate of any corporation, his election is confidently anticipated.

Col. John H. Puck has honored every office, in public and private life, in which he has served. This is reason sufficient for his triumphant election to the police board.

George W. Leibuis is in faver with the people, and will be the police clerk after next Monday. A change in this office is demanded.

Rudolph Mathias is making a splendid canvass among his friends in the First, and will almost certainly defeat Dan Miller.

WAR DAMAGES.

Egan Presents the Claims of the House of Alsop.

Valparaiso, March 31.—Minister Egan has presented to the Chilean foreign office the claims of the liquidators of the American house of Alsop. The claim amounts to nearly $1,000,000 in silver, also interest. The claim arises from concessions of land in the Guano districts, which Chile, after her war with Bolivia disallowed. It is said that a settlement of this question with Balmaceda had nearly been effected when the revolution broke out.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is said that Ingalls will run for congressman-at-large from Kansas. He will probably succeed in remaining at large.—Atlanta Journal.

Senator Brice says Hill is no longer a presidential possibility. Senator Brice might have said that long ago. But Senator Brice usually makes sure before he goes ahead.—Wheeling Register.

Maybe Secretary Foster went to London to make the arrangement for a friendly and confidential war scare for the benefit of the tory administrations on both sides of the Atlantic.—St. Louis Republic.

Those inconsiderate persons who have undertaken to blow breath into the nostrils of a Sherman boom should desist. It is wicked to thus trifle with an old man's vain ambition.—Memphis Commercial.

Electrocution, in its latest phases, bears an unpleasant likeness to the methods of the mediaeval auto da fe. Surely, hanging is preferable to such an exhibition as that of Cotto's taking off yesterday at Sing Sing.—Boston Globe.

Willie Wilde's objections to American journalism have simmered down to a plea for the use of the semi-colons. This is a modest request and withal a very sensible one. Semi-colons are cheap and never libelous.—Kansas City Star.

A man defeated for a high office is generally a man shelved, but the very fact that the people demand Cleveland for 1892, notwithstanding his defeat in 1888, proves that he has phenomenal strength, and that he is the man for standard-bearer.—Richmond State.

The British syndicate is not so numerous in this country as it was a few months ago, some of the syndicaters having made the painful discovery that they had taken more upon their fork than they could comfortably stow away. Americans, after all, seem best fitted to conduct American enterprises.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Mr. Cleveland does well to frankly state his position so that no one may be deceived. He does not want the nomination and will not work for it. If the party asks him to lead he will not refuse the call of duty, and it would not be like him to do so. The party now knows how Mr. Cleveland stands and it can go forward with the work of selecting the candidates understandingly.—New Haven Register.

While the press continues to devote columns to the brainless fops who have dragged their private affairs before the public and disgraced their families and country so far as was possible for men of their caliber, so long will these useless scions of aggregated wealth continue to write letters and pose as members of the aristocracy. It is only by illustrating their lack of sense that such beings can secure notoriety where they lack brains to command other attention.—Chicago Times.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That John H. Puck is a model candidate for police commissioner.

That First ward democrats meet to-night with business of importance on hand.

That the talk of adjourning the legislature has been suspended for a month.

That there is a good-sized surprise in store for the republicans of Toledo next Monday.

That the election board is up to its ears in business getting ready for next Monday's bout.

That Lakeside managers propose to make the coming year the best in the resort's history.

That George Reynolds is doing some quiet work for a third term as county infirmary director.

That the working of the Orient among the K. P. boys is being revived. Mose Math has it now.

That the changeable weather is not much enjoyed by those whose limbs are unfailing barometers.

That doctors' bills are having a hard road to travel in the legislature, and it is likely 'twill always be so.

That janitors of the school buildings do not receive salaries proportionate to the work required to be done.

That the Humane society people express much regret because Mr. Kirkby is to leave the infirmary; he has been a mainstay.

That it would be well to be on the lookout for the small boys and probably the big ones too, to-morrow; it is April 1.

That the effort to smirch Col. Isaac D. Sneed's good name will fall very flat in Toledo and elsewhere, where he is known.

That the Clapp bill to tax mortgages is causing considerable commotion in financial circles, and may prove very disastrous.

That O. A. Browning and Theodore C. Lauer would add much to the business end of the natural gas board, if elected next Monday.

That the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class is making exertions for a big display of athletic feats at the annual exhibition soon to occur.

That Toledo militia companies are all broke up because there is no hope of war. They were all on the verge of displaying their patriotism.

That Railroad Commissioner Kirkby will await the appointment of his successor in the infirmary department by the next city council before retiring.

That the Authors' carnival at the First Presbyterian church for the past two nights will net the society a handsome sum, though such result was not obtained without considerable labor.

That there are statements going the rounds of the press that Maj. Overman is to be the principal in another court-martial on more serious charges than those for which he is to be reprimanded.

That it appears funny to allow Reynold Voit to run for the one-year term on the gas board, while Jake Romeis takes the five-year plum. Republican love for the laboring man is made apparent thereby, however.

That Frank H. Tanner will be a candidate next fall to succeed Sam Hunter as county treasurer. Frank has always held responsible financial positions for a comparatively young man, and he would probably handle the county's cash as well as any other republican.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

In the Whitney & Tracy Litigation in Court.

Doria Tracy is Excluded from Participating in the Dividends of the Late firm.

Another important decision was rendered yesterday afternoon in the Whitney & Tracy cases, pending in common pleas court.

The question was involved in a motion, which included several very interesting points of law.

The motion was made on the issue between Doria Tracy and Benjamin S. Whitney by Doria Tracy for an allowance of claims amounting to about $20,000, to be paid from the dividends of the estate of the late firm of Whitney & Tracy, by the receiver, including claims presented while Doria Tracy was special partner of the firm of Whitney & Tracy, all of which had been acquired by him since the appointment of the receiver.

The defense, which included the creditors of the firm, argued that the claims could not be allowed under the law of Ohio, governing such cases. The law provides that in case of insolvency of a limited partnership the special partner shall not under any circumstances claim as a creditor.

In view of the statute the court excluded Doria Tracy from participating in the dividends.

OPPOSE THE GRIFFIN BILL.

Opponents of the Measure Send a Committee

To Columbus Which Will Lobby Against Its Passage Through the Senate—Meeting Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of those interested in the gas injuction suits against the city met in Ketcham's bank office, and appointed a committee to go to Columbus and lobby against the bill.

It appears that quite a number of anti-pipe-liners hold gas certificates of indebtedness, and are therefore favorably disposed towards the measure and refuse to oppose it further.

Guy Kinney, it is understood, headed the delegation which went to Columbus this morning, but it is generally conceded that the bill will pass the senate without much opposition.

A FIVE YEAR OLD.

A certain bill now in the hands of the senate insurance committee is a resurrected measure that has made its appearance at every session of the legislature since 1888. It is copied from the Massachusetts non-forfeiture law, and was first presented in the senate by Mr. Cowgill, and latterly two or three times by Mr. Shaw. It has never been favorably considered by any committee to which it has been referred. The objections to it are that non-forfeiture is voluntarily written in the policies of many leading life insurance companies other than those of Massachusetts, and also the fact that the omnibus character of the measure conflicts with the constitutional rights of the companies organized in conformity with the corporate laws of co-equal commonwealths. In this the committees have been right in smothering the measure four successive times. There is no use, in fact it is the height of folly to place on the statute books laws which the courts are sure to decide to be cumbersome rubbish.

STORM REPORTS.

Much Damage Was Caused in Kentucky.

Taylorville, Ky., March 31.—Details of the late storm in this section are coming in and show that much damage was done. Six substantial log and frame dwellings were blown down and as many families left homeless.

Barns, fences and outhouses in a space half a mile wide and two miles long were swept away. The mountain sides were almost entirely stripped of timber, and huge boulders were torn from the face of the cliffs.

An apple orchard consisting of over 500 trees, belonging to C. Howard, circuit court clerk, was swept away.

TOLEDO SHOULD BE IN IT

With an Assistant Inspector of Workshops,

And the Machinists' Lodge Has a First-class Candidate—Labor Meetings Last Night.

A very interesting meeting was held last night of Toledo Lodge, No. 105, International Association of Machinists. New members were received and initiated, and the applications of others were referred to proper committees.

An animated discussion was had relative to instructions of the delegate who will reperesent this lodge in the annual convention of the international organization, which meets in May. Practical unanimity on one point was shown, that in the judgment of this lodge the International association should affiliate with the Federation of Labor, and the delegate to the convention will be instructed to advocate this course. A circular has lately been issued by the Toledo lodge to the other lodges of the order, setting forth good and sound reasons why this course should be taken, and pointing out that other national and international organizations of unions have been strenghtened by adopting it. The delegate from No. 105 will be elected next Wednesday evening.

A. G. Otto for Inspector.

Another interesting phase of the meeting was the hearty endorsement given Albert G. Otto, of lodge 105, for the position of assistant inspector of workshops and factories. As by the amended law eight new assistants are to be appointed, it is altogether right and proper one of these appointments should come to Toledo. No better candidate could be chosen than the one who has the endorsement of the machinists' lodge, and who will without doubt be endorsed by the Central Labor union and other labor organizations of the city.

Inspector McDonald very properly decides that such endorsements should be part of the credentials of any applicant, and the unions will see to it that men with clean labor records, who have worked for unionism without selfish motive, get the endorsements, and that they do not go to men who seek to break into a union on the eve of seeking appointment.

The Tinners Meet.

Little but routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of Tinners' union, No. 6, last evening. The death of a member, Wm. Kebler, was reported, and a committee consisting of M. E. Cleary, H. J. Franz, A. D. Sherman was appointed to draft resolutions on the same. The charter was draped in mourning for the usual 30 days

MAKING PREPARATIONS

For the Observance of Memorial Day.

Sub-Committees Appointed to Look After Details—Governor McKinley to Deliver the Address.

The joint committees from the Grand Army posts of the city met yesterday afternoon in the government building to make further arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day. L. E. Clark presided, and in the absence of Mr. Brinkerhoff, M. Leonshal served as secretary.

After consultation the following subcommittee were appointed to attend to details:

On program—D. R. Austin, Thomas Crofts, W. I. Squire, G. W. Vrooman.

On finance—W. E. Bateman, P. H. Dowling, J. P. Bronson, J. B. Jennings.

On marking graves—M. Loenshal, G. R. Pennell, C. C. McCready.

Street decorations—W. Corlett, E. H. Potter, Geo. Scheets, J. W. Oswald.

On flowers and supplies—R. A. Brinkerhoff, L. E. Clark, A. T. Davis, James L. Barrett.

On account of the fact that Gov. McKinley is to deliver the address on the occasion, a committee on reception was selected, comprised the following gentlemen: John S. Kountz and E. Goodnow, of Toledo post; Chas. Wittich and H. G. Neubert, of Forsyth post; David W. Magniss and Orson Sage, of Ford post; W. H. Sloan and J. M. Waddick, of Volunteer post; captains of Mark E. Sibley and P. S. Slevin camps, Sons of Veterans; Hon. J. M. Ashley, Hon. Jacob Romeis, Hon. James M. Ritchie, Hon. Wm. E. Haynes, Hon. Elmer White, Hon. Charles P. Griffin, Hon. O. P. Heller, Hon. C. A. Flickinger, Hon. J. C. Messer, H. S. Walbridge, Hon. V. J. Emmick, J. Kent Hamilton, J. K. Secor, George Scheets, P. C. Boyle, S. F. Forbes, Robinson Locke, Henry C. Vortdriede, Robert H. Bell.

As stated before, it is the intention of the Grand Army to make this year's observance of Memorial day one of more importance than has previously been the case, and to this end it is hoped the committees will have the cordial aid of the people of Toledo.

A BILL PREPARED

For the Legislature in Behalf of Injured Friends

Who Were Crippled in Service Before the Passage of an Amendment to the Pension Fund Law.

A bill has been prepared and will be introduced in the legislature within a few days which will be of considerable interest to several of Toledo's firemen.

It is an amendment to an amendment of the law providing for a fireman's pension fund, made April 29, 1891. As the law now stands firemen who were permanently injured before April 29, 1891, cannot derive the benefits provided by that enactment, which is $40 a month.

Chief Wall has one or two men in his service who are barred in this manner, and is taking an active interest in the matter. The bill which will be introduced places all firemen who have been permanently injured before April 29, 1891, under the benefits of the law.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER!

It is an old-fashion notion that medicine has to taste bad to do any good.

This is more than a matter of comfort. Agreeable taste is always a help to digestion. A sickening taste is always a hindrance. There is only harm in taking cod-liver oil unless you digest it. Avoid the taste.

"A crafty Persian set this stone;
A dusk Sultana wore it;
And from her slender finger, sir,
A ruthless Arab tore it.

"A ruby, like a drop of blood—
That deep-in tint that lingers
And seems to melt, perhaps was caught
From those poor mangled fingers!

"A spendthrift got it from the knave,
And tost it, like a blossom,
That night into a dancing girl's
Accurst and balmy bosom.

"And so it went. One day a Jew
At Cairo chanced to spy it
Among a one-eyed peddler's pack,
And did not care to buy it—

"Yet bought it all the same. You see,
The Jew he knew a jewel.
He bought it cheap to sell it dear;
The ways of trade are cruel.

"But I—be Allah's all the praise!—
Such avarice, I scoff it!
If I buy cheap, why, I sell cheap,
Content with modest profit.

"This ring—such chasing! look, milord,
What workmanship! By heaven,
The price I name you makes the thing
As if the thing were given.

"A stone without a flaw! A queen
Might not disdain to wear it.
Three hundred rubles buys the stone;
No kopeck less, I swear it!"

Thus Hassan, holding up the ring
To me, no eager buyer.
A hundred rubles was not much
To pay so sweet a liar!

The bulk of the diamonds found in the South African mines weigh between a half and three carats. A two-carat stone of good color would cost from £10 to £12. In this country the speeches of public men are appreciated all the more heartily because their influence tends to increase the circulation of the newspapers. A New Yorker couldn't get bread, meat, rest for the asking, so he committed crime. Taking a paving stone, he hurled it through a window in Inspector Steer's office. The recent earthquake gave a great many eastern tourists at Los Angeles "a bad half hour." He would have rushed into the street but for the clerk.

I've been through the mill, and know all about your desires. You have come here in good faith to make this your home. You have squatted on public land and you ought to have it. The statutes require us to sell to the highest and best bidders. You are are the best bidders, and, by the eternal, the mule's your'n. Howl down the speculators, but don't shoot. I left my gun at home. Take yours back to your cabins. Now go on with your bidding. But don't shoot."

At this season of the year it will repay the flower lover to gather sprigs of various fruit trees—apple, peach, pear and cherry—and, putting them in a vase of water, to place the latter in a sunny window. Do not change the water, but add a little to its quantity every few days. It is delightful to watch how the buds will grow and develop and finally produce actual blossoms. A handful of twigs taken at random while strolling through the woods, too, often show charming results. Pussy willows will often produce their little gray catkins; the maple will shake out its red tassels, and many others too numerous to mention will more than repay the slight trouble of gathering them.

The simian tongue is no longer the only language of "dumb animals" which is being studied by inquiring mankind. M. Prevot du Haudray has gone a step further than Prof. Garnier, and has carried science into the hencoop. His manner of ascertaining whether the barndoor fowl clucks in a tongue understood by all its kind consists in placing a telephone first in one henhouse where the family are at home. When the long-suffering receiver has been cackled into for half an hour it is taken away, and caused to repeat all the gossip in a neighboring hencoop. The results of the experiments are said to be marvelous, and the Academie des Sciences is awaiting a lecture on the subject with the greatest interest.

GREAT PLATO MANUSCRIPT.

"One of the few pleasures of my solitary life out here in the desert," said the Sphinx, "is to watch the rivalry between the French and English mummy men. If they would only be friends I could tell them lots of places where to dig; but their quarrels, though they may bring about a European war one of these days, are too amusing for me to interfere. Do you remember the story of the Plato manuscript? No? It reminds one of the great fight between the rival towns of Coptos and Tentyra related in the fifteenth Satire of Juvenal. You know what a fuss was made a few years ago over a MS. of Aristotle discovered in Egypt by a learned English explorer, who secretly conveyed it to Bloomsbury. The French authorities of the Ghizeh museum, near Cairo, were very angry indeed and determined not to let such a thing happen again. So last year, when the celebrated mummy-man, Prof. Fudge, began to dig among some ruins far up the river, careful watch was set on him. Now Fudge is the most learned Egyptologist in the world. He writes his diary in hieroglyphics, and he is simply saturated with the cunning of the wizards of Pharaoh. He had envied his rival professor the discovery of Aristotle, and was delighted in his turn to come across a most marvellous and complete MS. of an entirely new work by Plato. The first professor and his Aristotle were nowhere. To his disgust the secret leaked out; and one afternoon, as he was concealing the papyrus in one of his portmanteaus with the help of his assistant, Jones, what was his surprise to see his tent surrounded by Arabs, headed by a Frenchman, M. des Navets, who had been set as a spy upon him.

"What do you want?" said Fudge.

"That Plato MS." replied Des Navets.

Fudge's only answer was to seize a portmanteau and to rush down to the adjacent river bank, where, jumping into a dahabiya, he told his crew to push off and set sail. Des Navets, of course, went in pursuit, and, springing into another dahabiya behind, an exciting chase began. The two boats and their crews were equally matched, and as there was only a current and but little wind, Des Navets soon drifted up to Fudge.

"Heave to, or I'll sink you!" roared the Frenchman.

"Never!" cried Fudge; "it is better to sink than yield!" And the whole air pealed with the cheers of his men.

"Death without quarter!" yelled Des Navets, and in a moment the Frenchman's crew tried to board the English craft. Then a terrible struggle ensued, wherein each of the leaders performed prodigies of valor, encouraging their men, who were wrestling at the sides of the two ships. At length Des Navets hauled off, beaten, and the Fudges sank down too exhausted even to cheer. Night came on and a truce was made; but at dawn Fudge saw Des Navets far behind, stopping alongside a boat laden with very large and hard pumpkins. He had not long to wonder at this manoeuvre when the wily Frenchman bore down under a freshening breeze, grappled, and began a fierce cannonade with his terrible pumpkins. Almost the first shot caught the dauntless Fudge in the stomach and doubled him up at the bottom of the boat; but his men fought gallantly, and picking up the missiles, returned them with interest till the air was alive with pumpkins. Then Fudge, having recovered his breath and burning for revenge, caught up a huge specimen and flung it with all his might at Des Navets, who happened to be dancing on the poop. The gigantic gourd struck the French mummy on the shoulder and toppled him into the water, and while his crew were rescuing him, the Fudges sailed away in triumph. So passed the second day, Des Navets hanging close to the wake with eagle eye on his rival.

On the third day the Frenchman tried a new plan. He shouted to every passing boat and offered high wages to men to come and join him. Several crews accepted his offer, and it would soon have been all over with Fudge had he not risen to the occasion and bought off his new assailants by a higher bid. Thereupon a spirited auction arose; Fudge and Des Navets going higher and higher in their offers, and the volunteers swaying now to this side and now to that. Other boats joined them; and soon a long procession, ever increasing, drifted down the river, the boats all locked together and scores of boatmen gesticulating and fighting on their own account. Indeed, a general naval war had broken out on the Nile. The watchmen gave the alarm. Mounted gendarmes galloped along the banks. Police boats put off to stop them, but were either sunk or had to take sides. At each village women and children gave shrill cries of delight as the flotilla drifted majestically past them. Even the combatants were ignorant of the cause, except that two European "Khawagas" were having a race. So indiscriminate was the action that the two mummy-men were now fighting back to back for their lives; each of them had been in the water several times, their clothes torn to shreds, and they themselves battered and bruised.

"Will you give up that accursed manuscript?" sobbed Des Navets.

"Never!" moaned Fudge; "it is better to drown with it than yield it now."

Thus passed the next three days, till on the sixth day they at length arrived, amid intense excitement, at Cairo. The capital was all agog, the government was alarmed, the troops were under arms Des Navets and Fudge were at once arrested and taken off to a council composed of their respective consuls. They presented a pitiful spectacle—famished, filthy and in rags. Where was the MS.? Then Fudge confessed that he had thrown it overboard two days before. With a shriek Des Navets fell upon him, and the two mummy men fought it out in open court under the table while their consuls gasped with dismay. They were at last separated and locked up. That night bands of French sympathizers paraded the streets, shouting, "A bas les Anglais! Vive Des Navets! Vive Platon!" The English party jeered, and cried "Fudge for ever!" Some of the Europeans grew frightened. They remembered the massacre of Alexandria and thought of flight. But next day, the seventh, a telegram came:

British Museum, London.
Arrived with Plato MS. JONES.

While Fudge, to gain a week's time, had led Des Navets a goose chase down the river, his assistant, Jones, had gone by train to Alexandria, and thence to Brindisi and London, with the papyrus. Yes, Fudge had not studied hieratic lore for nothing, and was a deep old Egyptian wizard.

But Des Navets won't believe it, and is still dredging the Nile for that lost portmanteau.—Boston Herald.

The Leading American Industrial Declares Another Dividend.

An Unusual Opportunity for Wide-Awake Investors to Secure Shares in a Company Whose Stability and Earning Power Are Unequalled.

H. H. Warner & Co., Limited, having declared an interim dividend of 4 per cent. on the preferred and 5 per cent. on the common stock, dividend checks will be mailed to the American shareholders on April 5 by the Central Trust company, of 54 Wall street.

In November last this company declared a dividend of 4 per cent. on the preferred and 10 per cent. on the common stock. The end of their fiscal year will be July 31. In order to secure for our readers some idea of the amount of dividend that will then be declared, our reporter called upon Mr. Warner, at 50 Broadway, as also to obtain anything further in regard to the recent report that H. H. Warner & Co. were about to double their common stock. In reply to the scribe's question, Mr. Warner said:

"The dividend which the company has just declared is merely an interim one. Such a dividend is liable to be declared at any time. The company has a very large reserve, and I suppose the board of directors are desirous of getting rid of some of the company's accumulations. They, therefore, declared this dividend, regardless of the one to be declared at the expiration of our fiscal year."

"Well, Mr. Warner, what do you estimate will be the amount of dividend the company will pay at the close of the present fiscal year?"

"I cannot give any exact figures, but, as near as I can approximate, the company will have about $400,000 to distribute at the end of this fiscal year, in addition to the amount that will have been previously distributed in the course of the year, and I have every reason to believe that the next dividend will be at the rate of, at least, 30 per cent. on the common shares. In fact, after paying the regular dividend of 4 per cent. on the preferred stock, I believe that the company will be able to pay, if they choose, at the rate of 40 per cent. on the common stock; but the company may conclude that it is wise to pay but, say, at the rate of 30 per cent. dividend on the common stock and use a large amount of their surplus to cancel the remaining debenture bonds, which now amount to less than $425,000, over $300,000 of these debentures having been cancelled last year, besides paying 17 1-2 per cent. on the common stock. You will see by these figures that the company will make even a better showing this year than ever before."

"So, Mr. Warner, the prediction that was made by you a few days ago to the effect that you believed the company would shortly double its common shares is likely to come true sooner than you anticipated."

"No, I cannot say that. I do believe, though, that the capital stock of the common shares will be doubled during the next fiscal year, commencing August 1. I cannot well see what is to become of our surplus, unless we pay extraordinarily large dividends—which I do not think wise—or double the common stock of the company. You see, our business is growing better continually, and our common shares only amount to $1,700,000. There is a bright possibility of being able to make half as much as that in the future from the Baking Powder alone, which we are now putting upon the market in addition to our present business, which would permit our paying over 50 per cent. dividends on the common stock. These facts, figured in connection with the regular profit which has for years been derived from Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Safe Yeast, almost warrant the belief that we will earn a net profit of over $1,000,000 per year. If so this vast sum would all go to the common shareholders, after paying the comparatively small dividend of 8 per cent. on the preferred stock and the interest on the remaining debentures if not cancelled. With the business continually improving and its record since being capitalized into a company, of a net profit from Warner's Safe Remedies, alone, of over a million dollars in two years, my prophecy becomes almost a reality."

"Are you still selling your shares, Mr. Warner?"

"I shall sell a few more shares to our patrons, at the rate of $75 apiece for the common and $50 apiece for the preferred, the par value of the shares being £10, or about $50 each."

"Are you willing to continue to sell your shares at this price, the purchasers to have the dividend which has just been declared of 5 per cent. on the common and 4 per cent. on the preferred?"

"Yes, I shall sell a few more shares up to the time the dividend is actually paid, at the prices I have just given you, the purchasers to have the dividend. After the dividend shall have been paid I do not expect to sell many more shares, but if I am satisfied I can benefit the business by using this means of advertising it, I shall sell a few, but at an advanced price."

"Is there anything further you wish to say about the business?"

"No; there is nothing further to say, and, in fact, I do not care to say anything. I am willing that the business should speak for itself. I claim that it has a dividend-paying record for the past twelve years that very few, if any, businesses can excel. When the revenue sure to result from Warner's Safe Baking Powder is added to that already derived from Warner's Safe Cure and Warner's Safe Yeast, I do not see what there is to prevent it from being one of the largest dividend-payers of any legitimate business in this or any other country."

"SHE COULDN'T MARRY 'THREE'"

No company that we have ever heard of has ever come to our city with such favorable couriers as "She Couldn't Marry Three." They have the unanimous indorsement of the New York press; and this, you may rest assured, will be your only chance to see this superior company, as they will make no stops going from San Francisco to New York city. PENSIONS FOR EX-SLAVES

A Platform Upon Which Negroes Will Combine.

Fred Douglas a Candidate for President.

Novelties in the Political Line Which Prove the Versatility of the American Place Hunter.

New York, March 31.—The announcement recently that ex-Mayor Vaughan, of Omaha, who caused to be introduced in congress a bill for the pensioning of ex-slaves, had in contemplation a movement to place a colored presidential ticket in the field next fall with Fred Douglas at its head, has caused considerable talk among the colored population in this city.

In connection with the proposition Mr. Thos. Fortune, one of the leading public spirits among the colored race, when interviewed to-day on the subject said:

"As far as Mr. Vaughan's proposition is concerned, that Mr. Douglas should be nominated president or that his name should be suggested in connection with the presidency by a white man of, I believe, southern antecedents, upon a platform on which the fundamental plank should be the voting of pensions to ex-slaves, is remarkable to say the least. It contains novelty, not to say humor of the broadest character, but it has something else.

"It shows that in more ways than one we are beginning to be a consolidated people. I have received a letter to-day from a white friend whose name is known throughout the country in which this paragraph occurs:

"'I suggest and urge the selection of as many Afro-American delegates to the republican national convention as shall proportionately represent the colored population of all the states north and south, and that when these delegates are chosen, they shall, so far as possible, go to the convention unrestricted, and when they get there they come together and act as a unit'

"Suppose all the Afro-American delegates in the convention without threat or bluster quietly and with dignity vote as a unit for Fred Douglas and John M. Langston, of Virginia. Such action would negative the idea that the delegates were there simply to sell out to the highest bidder as some delegates were charged with doing at the convention in Chicago four years ago.

"You can never command recognition until you demonstrate that power to nominate and elect your friends and defeat your enemies. Suppose such a ticket was placed in the field to what extent would it detract votes from the other tickets. While Mr. Douglas is strong with his people I candidly believe, and I think my brother colored people believe with me, that he would receive more votes from the old line of abolitionists in New England and the west than he would receive from his people.

"I would not oppose the nomination of Mr. Douglas or any other man because he belongs to this or that race. I do not believe in color line in anything, in politics especially. I do not believe in Vaughan's proposition to pension ex-slaves any more than I believe in the proposition of a black man in North Carolina who wants to run for congress on a platform to reimburse slave-holders for the confiscation of their slave property. The two propositions while starting from opposite poles meet at a common center and are equally objectionable. Both are cranky.

"I think Mr. Douglas made a mistake when he committed himself to indorse Mr. Vaughan's proposition. I think Mr. Vaughan made a mistake when he placed Mr. Douglas in nomination simply because he represents a race rather than a nation upon such a faulty platform."

SENECA COUNTY GOSSIP.

An Elk Recovers a Long Lost Watch and Chain.

Miscellaneous Mention Picked Up in Tiffin by a Bee Who Is Always on the Alert for News.

Tiffin, O., March 31.—(Special)—Frank Kuhn was arrested here charged with obtaining a deed for a town lot from Christian Spangler, of Alvada, under false pretenses. Spangler sold the lot to Kuhn for $325, taking his note (which is worthless) in payment. When arrested Kuhn secured the money necessary to pay for the lot, and prosecution was stopped.

Last January a gold watch and a chain made of elk's teeth were stolen from T. J. Charlton in Cleveland, and pawned in Tiffin by the supposed thief, who is not known. The pawnbroker sold the watch to William Furlong, a saloonkeeper, and through a notice of the peculiar chain in a local paper a member of the lodge of Elks ascertained that the property was stolen and notified Charlton that it was here.

He came yesterday, and received his property.

DEATH IN A STORM.

A Sad Affair Reported from Scotland.

A Daughter Forced to Leave Her Mother and Brother in Order to Save Her Life.

Glasgow, March 31.—While a heavy snow storm was raging in the county of Dumfries, a woman named Sarah Hamilton, accompanied by her son and daughter, started to walk from a distant point to their home in Sanquhar, 26 miles from the town of Dumfries. The mother and son grew so exhausted from their struggles through the deep drifts, and became so benumbed by the bitter wind, that they were unable to go any further, and after several ineffectual attempts to continue on their way, they sank into the snow and were soon frozen to death.

The girl bore the hardships much better and tried desperately to help her mother and brother along. When they at last succumbed she tried by every means in her power to rouse them from the deadly stupor which was creeping over them, but her brave efforts were of no avail, and the sorrowing girl was at length forced to leave the bodies where they fell and to struggle onward alone in the face of the howling storm.

She reached her home exhausted and reported the facts, and searching parties quickly started out to recover the bodies.

TOO YOUNG FOR SCHOOL.

But Old Enough to Carry a Loaded Revolver.

Chicago, March 31.—John Keegan, 5 years old, was accidentally shot and killed in the school room of St. Ignatius college by Sims McGuire, a boy about 6 years old who sat next to him. Young McGuire was exhibiting a revolver which he had bought just before entering the school, and in the passage from hand to hand the weapon was discharged, the ball entering Keegan's heart. The boy expired in ten minutes.

Amber is especially interesting to naturalists from the fact that over 800 species of insects and 163 species of plants have been preserved in it. It is extensively used for ornaments, and although amber is found in many parts of the world, that which is used mostly in commerce comes from the shores of the Baltic. Fine pieces of it are worth more than their weight in gold. The largest piece known weighs 18 pounds and is valued at $30,000. It is in the cabinet of Berlin. Succinic acid, very useful in the arts, is obtained from amber.

BITTER TRUTH.

But Many Men Are Just such Fools.

A sad story that of Henry C. Arno. A man of high ambitions, he had worked and struggled incessantly for riches. Just as success crowned his efforts he fell dead, struck down by nerve and brain prostration from overstrain and overwork, in his drawing room, amid his magnificent surroundings. He never lived to enjoy the fruits of his excessive overwork.

So it is with thousands. They work, using up their nerve force until they find themselves excessively nervous, powers of mind and thought weakened nerves unstrung and unsteady, nights sleepless and unrefreshing, bodies tired and exhausted. There will often be confused mind, dim vision, loss of memory, dull feeling head, dizziness, despondency, strange sensations, trembling on excitement, feeling of anxiety, poor blood, malaria, indigestion, bowels constipated, liver and kidneys out of order. The after-effects of the Grip also, tend to weaken and prostrate the nerves, and the weakened and shattered nervous systems left in the train of this disease are alarmingly numerous.

If you have the above symptoms YOU ARE IN A BAD WAY, especially in spring, when the weakness of Spring Debility makes you worse, and you should use immediately that great restorer of nerve force and power, the invigorator and strengthener of brain and nerves, Dr. Greene's Nervura. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.

"I WAS COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH, AND SUFFERED FROM EXTREME EXHAUSTION AND COULD NOT REST DAY OR NIGHT. I had rheumatism and neuralgia in my sides, an all gone feeling in my stomach, and a terrible palpitation, causing me to think I had heart disease. I HAD TO GIVE UP WORK. After consulting and treating with several eminent physicians with no benefit, I at last tried Dr. Greene's Nervura. I AM NOW WELL, HAVING GAINED 23 POUNDS IN WEIGHT, AND WORK EVERY DAY. That trembling feeling and terrible throbbing and palpitation of the heart have left me.

W. C. MILES,

4 Manning St., Medford, Mass."

Call or write to him about your case or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining your disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth equal 336,776 bus., and from five other points 174,470 bus. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were wheat, 135,386 bus., and flour to an aggregate of 250,000 bus. Exports of corn, 201,573 bus., and of oats 11,631 bus.

English markets as reported herein are lower for wheat in London, and dull for wheat and lower for corn in Liverpool.

The Markets To-day.

It was rather obvious at the close of yesterday's markets that we should have lower prices to-day unless some unlooked-for event occurred. And it did not occur.

The eventualities of the day in wheat have been entirely unimportant, and the fluctuations have been within very narrow limits.

Corn.—For the first time in many days corn has drooped with wheat, and prices are lower east and west. English prices are also lower.

Foreign markets are again quoted closing lower, and they will so continue as long as we decline.

In New York May wheat closed 3-4c, and July 1c lower. May corn 1 1-8c and July 1c lower.

In Chicago May wheat advanced just before the close; loss 7-8c. July, 1 1-4c lower. May corn 5-8c, and July 7-8c lower. May oats 1-2c lower.

In Toledo the market for wheat has only been moderately active. Prices are lower, but there has been less declining than in other centers. Opening trades for May were at a loss of 1-2c with a further slight break, but near the close there was more firmness, at the close the loss was 1-4c with buyers. On the call cash wheat sold at 87 5-8c to 87 1-2c. May at 86 5-8c to 86 1-2c. After the call May sold at 86 1-2c to 86 3-8c and closed at 86 3-4c. July sold at 82 1-4c to 82 1-8c and closed at 82 1-2c, a loss of 1c. August sold at 82c and closed at 82c. After 'Change May sold at 86 7-8c to 87c. July at 82 1-2c. August at 82c.

Cash wheat was firm. Not much done. No. 2 soft advanced 1-2c, selling at 87 1-2@87 3-4c, and at close the market was 88c. No. 3 soft at 85 3-4c; rejected No. 1 at 81c. No. 2 white at 85 3-4c.

Corn—No. 4 at 37c. No. 3 yellow at at 40c, closing at 39c.

No business reported in oats or rye.

Clover seed.—On the call March sold at $6.50. After the call No. 2 at $6.10@6.20; old No. 2 at $5.00.

At the People's Next Week.

"The Limited Mail," the now famous play, by Elmer E. Vance, is, without doubt, the strongest drawing card now traveling, and it is little wonder that city managers are using their best endeavors to secure it, arguing that a week in one place saves so much annoyance and worry that the average manager will throw overboard his "one night stand" contracts and play the city date. For a long time Business Manager Chappelle has been in negotiation with those in power here, with a view of cancelling, in order to play New York, but all propositions have been met with a firm refusal. We have it on the authority of our local management that "The Limited Mail" will open at the People's next Monday for a week.

THE MAPLE LEAF ROUTE.

One of the most successful new lines in the west has been the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railway, popularly known to the traveling public as the Maple Leaf, this emblem having been selected by the management of the company as its trademark. It is a road constructed on the principle of having only main lines operated, which extend between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis, Chicago and Kansas City, and Kansas City and St. Paul and Minneapolis, giving it three direct main lines of travel. Its lines extend through the most prosperous and productive portions of the great states of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas, which territory is justly claimed to be the garden spot of the world. One of the most pleasant features to travelers possessed by this line—and it is the only line in the west offering such accommodations—is the compartment feature of its sleeping cars, in which the price of the exclusive use of a drawing room is no more than the cost of a section in the ordinary Pullman car. Passengers, besides having these accommodations offered them, are also given the option of the standard style of Pullman cars. Its trains from Chicago arrive at and depart from the new Grand Central Passenger Station, which is acknowledged to be the handsomest of its kind in the world. The progressive and advanced methods of railroading inaugurated by this company have made it generally popular with the ticket agents throughout the country.—The Station Agent, Feb., 1892.

How's
Your Liver?
Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.
NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

An English concern is now successfully making flexible metallic tubing that is perfectly tight and capable of resisting high steam or hydraulic pressure. The tubes are made from strips of metal of the required length, breadth and thickness. The strip is fed into a machine in which it is first corrugated longitudinally with a wide and narrow corrugation, the two running side by side. The strip is carried forward and is coiled spirally around a mandril in such a way that the smaller corrugation interlocks with the larger one, forming a piston joint. Sufficient spring is left on the tube to cause a perfectly tight joint to be formed.

You will seldom need a doctor if you have Simmons Liver Regulator handy.

Prof. Story, the Chicago spelling reformer, whose cause Senator Cullom is championing, thinks that though it will be difficult for most people to acquire the new system the next generation will have no trouble about it. Matthew Arnold once said of the Greek enthusiasts who a few years ago sought to transform Clytemnestra into Klutaimnestra, Aeschylus into Aiskhulos, etc., that he "did not see the advantage of wandering through a wilderness of pedantry in order that his children might enter into an orthographical Canaan," and the criticism seems to fit Prof. Story's ambitious scheme to a T, as it were.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.
